The amendment dated 06/07/06 has been considered with the following results:

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 38, 40 and 41 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Moses et al (5,612,943).

Regarding claims 38 and 41, see Fig. 2 of Moses et al which shows a recording system for performing a function of recording digital data codes representative of pieces of music data information (audio) and asynchronously produced (by system shown in Fig. 3) at irregular intervals in an information storage medium, the digital data codes having a format capable of representing more than two values (see Fig. 10B), the system comprising: an analog audio signal producing circuit (see modulator 202) for performing a step of converting a supplied digital data codes to an analog signal through a modulation technique (see FSK modulator 202 in Fig. 2 and details in Fig. 4) assigning values of said digital data codes to values of a physical quantity periodically varied (see Fig. 10D), and a recording circuit (see recorder 22) for performing a step of recording the pieces of music data information (audio) stored in the analog signal into an information storage medium (24).

Regarding claim 40, see FSK modulator (202) in Fig. 2.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 1-29 are allowed over the prior art of record.

4. Claims 39, 42 and 43 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments with respect to claimed invention have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection..
